VOLUME XLVII.

History of Elm House.

In the passing of the Elm House, one of Norway's oldest landmarks is about to pass, and it is fitting that a brief history of the house should be printed. In 1806 Joshua Smith built a small store on the site of the present Elm House. A short time afterwards an addition was built on to it to make a dwelling and store in the same building. In 1812 the building was enlarged by Joshua Smith when it was opened to the public and he continued to run it as a public house until his death, which occurred in 1849. The building was rebuilt in 1846 by James N. Hall into a three-story building. He managed it for a year and was succeeded by S. T. Dutton, who continued the business for about a year and a half, when Otis True assumed the management. He continued there until 1865, when he sold out to Joseph Carpenter, who remained a year, when he sold to Capt. W. W. Whitmarsh and W. P. Jordan. Mr. Jordan retired after two years, when Capt. Whitmarsh and wife assumed ownership and served the public in the capacity of landlord and landlady for nearly one year in a very praiseworthy manner.

On November 12, 1908, Capt. Whitmarsh sold to Ellsworth E. Young, who repaired and refurbished the house. Mr. Young continued until April 21, 1911, when he sold to Fred H. Harriman. On Feb. 9, 1914, Mr. Harriman sold to Nathan D. Merrill, who continued to run it as a public house until last Saturday, March 25. When, after 104 years as a public house, it has fulfilled its usefulness and will soon be torn down. A modern structure to meet the requirements of the times will be erected on its site. During Mr. Whitmarsh's ownership this hotel was several times remodeled and improved. Many noted men of the past generation have found comfortable accommodations beneath its roof.

Norway to be a Busy Place.

Norway's prospects for the coming spring and summer are good. The orders for the shoe factories are coming in well. The knitting factory is running at full capacity. Mr. Hunton has recently put in the necessary machinery to do his own dyeing and is equipped to do an extensive business and orders are coming in. The fact that Main Street is to be fixed this coming season should not be forgotten.

The building of the Norway Automobile Company's garage on Deering street has changed the looks of the street and autos are beginning to be put into it. The disposal of the Elm House and the changing of the garage into a garage by H. Beck will be another building enterprise of no small consequence.

Norway Grange Notes.

The meeting of Norway Grange, held last Saturday, was called to order at 7 o'clock by worthy Master Richard Young. All officers were present. Eleven candidates were balloted on and five applications were received. After completing the business of the day the remainder of the time was given over to the captains, Goodwin and Young, who presented extremely interesting programs. There was a large attendance with a number of visitors present.

Paris Grange and Franklin Grange are expected to meet with Norway Grange on April 8 at an all day meeting. There will be a large attendance in the forenoon. The Loyal Order of Moose observe Ladies' Night at the hall on March 31. The Grange will serve a baked bean supper. Oxford Pomona Grange meets with Bethel Grange, April 8.

Harold Moore has been the guest of his father, S. A. Moore at Gilead. A rehearsal of the W. R. C. will be held in Woodman Hall on Thursday evening, March 30, at 7:30 o'clock. All members should make an effort to be present. A cordial invitation is extended to Harry Rust Post No. 54 to be present at the W. R. C. meeting in Woodman Hall, Thursday evening, April 6 at 7:30 p. m. A large class of candidates will be initiated. Refreshments will be served. A pleasant event is anticipated.

Patsy Fallon, a clerk at the De Witt house at Lewiston, has been spending a few days with Robert Seavey at the Beals Tavern and was a visitor at the special meeting of Oxford Lodge, No. 18 F. and A. M.

W. H. Bergin, teacher in the ninth grade, is to leave Norway. He has secured a position in Fall River, Mass., with a substantial increase in salary. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Burtis are at West Paris for two weeks. Burtis is installing an electric lighting system in the H. W. Dunham store and block. The cars have been having serious difficulties the past few weeks. A slight cave-in in front of the Atherton store caused them to stop by Bridge street and at South Paris for two weeks they have been unable to go into the square on account of the snow, but the past week it has been removed and again the cars can go to the square.

Mrs. Mary Cleveland is nursing at South Paris. Mr. F. Libby returned home from Portland, Monday. Mrs. J. O. Crocker is recovering from her recent ill turn. The Barton Reading Club met with Mrs. Emma Bickford as hostess, Thursday, March 30, and had readings by the club members from Holman Day. The Calico Ball will be held at the Opera House some time in May. George Stevenson is suffering with a felon on his finger on the left hand. Mr. Stevenson hit his finger with a hammer recently, causing the trouble.

The District Attorney.

Fifteen students of Colby College Male Dramatic Club with H. Price Webber, the well known professional, as coach, presented the play, "The District Attorney," at the Opera House, Tuesday evening, March 28, before a fair-sized audience. The scenes of the play are laid in Chicago. The city is being robbed of millions of gallons of water by William Seabury, of the Seabury Canning Company. P. Horace Sullivan, a friend of William Seabury, and the very glad to see that Norway Village has a new prospect for a better main street. Mrs. Carrie Swan, who has been visiting her son, Will, at Locke's Mills, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus A. Everett will observe April 4th, 1916, as their 50th wedding anniversary at their home, Norway, and will entertain their relatives and friends from 2 until 4 p. m. John F. Hutchins and granddaughter, Florence Harriman, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Richard P. Lassell and family at Gardiner. Mrs. Harriman remained and will spend her two weeks' vacation there.

Mrs. Lucelia Merriam, Mrs. Mary C. Smith and Mrs. Evis F. Cook attended the D. A. R. Council at Lewiston. On Friday evening, March 31, the Norway Lodge, No. 1614, Loyal Order of Moose will observe Ladies' Night. A supper and dance will be held at the Norway Grange hall. The floor manager will be Arthur Welch and the aids, H. A. Richardson, Harry Luck, A. L. Curtis, W. E. Everett. The committee on rangements are E. J. Sharrow, Alton Curtis, A. T. Richardson, H. A. Knightly and Scott Merrill.

Mrs. Sarah Brooks, who has been working for Mrs. Harry Dudley at South Paris, is visiting her son, Ray Seavey, at Veranda Club met at the home of Mrs. Emma Bickford, Lower Main street, Thursday evening, March 23, in spite of wind and bad traveling. There was a good number present and a very enjoyable evening was passed. After the business meeting the hostess served tea, cranberries and assorted cookies. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Maggie Dyer, Fair street, Thursday evening, April 13.

Mrs. Franziska Rysio visited her nephew, Frank Murdock and family, the past week. Mrs. Hassett of Portland was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Richardson, Saturday and Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buck spent the week-end with relatives in Locke's Mills. Mrs. Ralph Harriman who has been suffering with what seemed like eczema for some time, has completely recovered, having learned that it was poisoning from a pinworm. Immediately after disposing of the plant the rash disappeared.

F. Q. Elliott has been very ill the past week, but is more comfortable now. A Lenten Thank Offering day will be observed at the Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday, April 2nd. Because of vacation this week, the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, which was to have been held Friday evening has been omitted until the last Friday evening of April. The ten-cent social for the benefit of the Universalist church will be held at the home of Mrs. F. H. Beck on Whitman street, Thursday evening, March 30. Fred Moore of Portland spent the week-end with his family.

Florence Russell is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Babcock at Lewiston during her vacation. Harley D. True has bought the Fuller house on Marston street and is to move there soon and Jesse Edwards is to move into the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. True. Mrs. George Springer of New Jersey is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Emma Chaffin and her grandmother, Mrs. Clara A. Hayden. Mrs. Eunice Watson, who spent the winter with her daughter in Lewiston, is visiting her sister, Fannie, at Portland. Fred Noble is suffering from an injury in the leg, caused Friday by a kick from one of his work horses. Mrs. J. W. Symmers and two children, who have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot Mundy, returned to New York, Tuesday.

F. W. Sanborn, who had been sick for three weeks, had a surgical operation at his home in Norway, Sunday forenoon. It is thought he is making good recovery. The snow went off with a rush. Wheels are fast taking the place of runners. The members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational church are making arrangements to hold a ten-cent sale, Wednesday, April 5th, at the vestry. Abbie Curtis entertained the Thimble club, Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dietrich, who have been residing in Bradford, Mass., have moved to Auburn, where Mr. Dietrich has a fine position as pattern maker in one of the factories. At one time Mr. Dietrich was employed at the Spinnery factory, where he started in pattern making. The new Atherton Furniture Store sign was placed over the new store, Wednesday afternoon. The sign is twenty-six feet long and reads "Atherton Furniture Co., Furniture" in large gold letters against a black background, except the words carpets and furniture, which is a blue back ground. George H. Bennett did the painting. A food sale will be held at the vestry of the Methodist church, Thursday evening, March 30, by the Home Missionary Society. Lunches will be served and a free entertainment given. The subject of Rev. C. G. Miller's sermon, Sunday will be "The church and church membership."

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Buck entertained the clerks and the ladies of the dress-making department of the Brown, Buck & Co. store, Friday evening. Games and guessing contests were enjoyed and refreshments of Gaffing dish, dainties, crackers, olives, pickles, fancy cookies and punch were served.

Mrs. Solon Downing of East Oxford is visiting her brother, Frank H. Beck, and wife. Hazel Libby of Lewiston is spending her vacation at C. W. Chick's.

Had its Share of Difficulties.

The reports from all over the state from the railroads say that the past three weeks have been the hardest for several years to keep up schedules. Our local street railway has had its share of the difficulties on account of snow, ice and sash. Friday, p. m., the last day of court one car was completely disabled leaving but one closed car available for service. This was very inconvenient both for the company and its patrons as there was an extra session of court that evening, beside a few smaller events. However the situation was there and made known, but those preferring to take chances with others on this regular car were, with the exception of a few, courteous and made the best of it. The attitude was much appreciated by the Supt. H. B. Young.

On the whole, after reading the newspapers, telling of the tie ups on roads everywhere this winter, it seems we have had little trouble in comparison.

Norway-Waterford Schools.

The annual organization meeting for the school boards of both towns, as well as for the Union school board, was held at Norway, on Saturday, March 25. Superintendent T. C. Morrill was re-elected for one year, same to terminate June 16, 1917, at the same salary. It was voted by the Waterford board to commence the spring term April 24 instead of the 17th as scheduled, the term to be for 8 weeks instead of nine. This will bring Flag Day observance on June 16.

The men of the Universalist church will have their annual supper and entertainment April 4th. The entertainment will be a moving picture show by H. N. Bragdon, of four or five reels of some of the most famous players. The Norway Public Library has printed the second series of "Supplementary Catalogue, No. 1."

Dr. H. H. Nevers of Lawrence, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and son, Donald, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nevers and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Maxwell, the past week. Dell Libby has moved from Bryant's Pond to Norway.

Activity in real estate is beginning to take a spring turn. The Norway Commercial Club will open its rooms, April 1st. The rooms are finely finished and furnished and are ready for use. Earl Thibodeau was operated on Tuesday at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital at Boston for appendicitis and hernia. Word from his sister, May Thibodeau says that he is getting along well.

The Pythian Sisterhood will meet Tuesday evening and will be followed by a rehearsal. Mrs. Rufus Sidelinger, who lives on Pike Hill, was the guest of Mrs. Nettie Nevers, Thursday. The Pythian Sisters held a quilting party at K. of P. Hall, Wednesday afternoon, which was followed by a supper and social, to which the husbands of the members were invited under a pleasant time enjoyed. Much credit is due the president of the sewing club, Clara Schinner, who was assisted by Mrs. Emma Cullinan for the success of the evening. The sewing club will hold a sale in the near future.

Halburton Cranlemer is spending a week with friends in Bradford, Mass., and will spend next week at his home in Millinocket. Verne Webber and family, who have been at Livermore Falls for the past two years, are moving back to Norway and will live in the Wilkins house on Bet street. Mr. Webber has been in the livery business at Livermore Falls and will engage in trucking business here. Ernest Brooks of Norway is driving the Gohman, N. H., bakery team during the absence of Zenas B. Peabody.

V. W. Hills spent Wednesday and Thursday in Portland and attended the annual meeting of the Maine Retail Jewellers' Association. Noble's Corner Will Symonds returned from Florida, last week. Mrs. Martha Symonds, who has been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Packard, returned home. Charles Richardson of Auburn is at home for a few days. Mr. Harrison Hunt and Will McKay are helping Frank Noyes, who is pressing hay for Charles Richardson. Mrs. Sarah Heath has been home the past week. She has been staying at Ralph Flood's at Norway Lake this winter.

Dr. L. P. Symonds is testing cattle in this and surrounding towns, getting ready for the summer season. Mell Cooper moved to South Paris this week. W. A. Hersey has begun sawing wood with his gas engine. Mr. H. C. Merrill is at home this week. Eddie Austin is working for Guy Curtis.

Norway Has Made the Test

Norway People Will Get the Benefit.

There's nobody in Norway any better known than C. E. Bradford and his kidney pills, for the benefit of Norway kidney sufferers, he has nothing whatever to gain.

Why experiment with unknown or imitation kidney remedies when you have such a good reason to try Doan's?

Profit by the test Mr. Bradford has made for you.

C. E. Bradford, prop. laundry, Main St., Norway, says: "At times I had a dull pain through the small of my back, together with a tired feeling. I couldn't rest well. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's Drug Store and after using two boxes, the pains left and I was greatly improved in every way. I have had no kidney trouble since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bradford had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

JOYS OF SPRING.

I'm longing for the joys of spring
With strawberry blossoms on the hill,
I long to hear the wild birds sing
And hear again the water mill.

I long to hear the frogs again
An end of the wintry chill,
I long to see the waving grain
And listen to the whirring mill.

I'm longing for the charms of spring,
The cricket with his endless song;
When 'round the door the ivy clings,
His breaks the silence at night long.

I'm longing for the joys of spring,
The grand old woods with scented smell;
I long to hear the crows' harsh note
And the tinkle of the old cow bell.

To feel again the gentle breeze
And drive the cattle up the lane,
With summer skies and humming bees—
I seem to be a child again.

And when the springtime comes again
I'll wander back into the hills,
'Tis there in freedom I will reign
And with the breeze and birds and rills.

'Tis there I'll fish the mountain streams
And hear again the wild birds sing,
I seem to hear them in my dream—
Ah, give to me the joys of spring!

OUR SPRING.

The winter has been a bitter
And the days dreary and long;
But as sure as there's buds on the trees,
Spring will come and the snow will melt.

The more bitter and cold the winter,
The sweeter our spring will be,
With its moist earth, flowers and sunshine,
And the green leaves on the tree.

As we travel on life's long journey,
Spring comes to us as a friend,
And even our nearest and best friends,
May appear to forsake us;

But when it's last our winter's over,
The sweeter our spring will seem;
And we again we reap happiness,
Sorrow'll seem only a dream.

ALBANY

The pulp wood is not quite all hauled to the brook yet, but it looks as if we should have six weeks sledding in March this spring.

The crows have got around again the latest I ever knew them to call on us in the spring of the year.

Mr. Ray of Greenwood, who lives about three miles from Bethel had an auction last Saturday and several from Albany attended the auction. Mr. Ray sold his farm to Mr. John Jones of Albany, who has moved on to it, and Mr. Ray has gone to Boston.

Albert Keniston went to South Paris last week on business.

Leslie Cummings has finished his job cutting timber for Charles Beckler and has taken another job to cut 25 cords for George Cummings.

Mrs. Bertha Andrews went to Bethel last week Thursday about two feet of snow on a level in the woods. Last year at this time some were on wheels.

Charles Beckler and Charles McAllister were chosen to go to the Portland convention.

Our school committee, chose Charles B. Garcelon of Lovell for supervisor of schools for the ensuing year. Our schools are to commence the last week in April.

Last year we had 30 weeks of school, three terms during the year that was all satisfactory. Thirty or forty years ago Albany had from 15 to 25 educated men in town, doctors, lawyers and high school scholars worked their way through school as their parents helped them. Now days the town pays the tuition, $30 for three terms.

We have not had a new valuation taken in the town for about 15 years, so no wonder there are so many unjust valuations.

The Ladies' Circle will be held, Friday afternoon at the vestry, instead of Thursday.

There was a good crowd at the dance, Saturday evening.

Herman Cummings and Silas Keniston went to the auction, Saturday in Greenwood.

Joe Paine called at Levi Butters, Friday evening.

Asa Keniston and his two daughters, visited an elder daughter in East Stoneham, Sunday.

Herman Cummings and Silas Keniston brought Ervin Brown and Myrtle Beckler from their school in Bethel, last week.

Ruth Barker has returned from her work in Bethel.

Mrs. Asa Keniston spent one day last week with Mr. Lottie Butters.

There will be another dance at the Town house, Saturday evening.

WEST STONEHAM. Sarah McKean has gone to Norway to work for Mrs. H. D. Smith and will attend the spring term of high school.

John Adams has been at work for L. E. McAllister at North Lovell this week.

Josie Adams has gone to Oxford to work for Mrs. John Robinson.

Mrs. W. H. Sawyer, who has been at West Mills with her son, Elwood Sawyer, this winter and Mrs. Maud McAllister, who has stayed at East Stoneham, are expected to move to their home here, Monday.

Lyman Chute has been in Norway and Harrison on business the past week.

W. W. Durgin, who has been confined to the house with a bad cold, is so as to be out-doors.

The town voted to rebuild the bridge across Great Brook to the Culbert place. This was washed out in the freshet last spring.

Muriel McKean is at home from Norway for a two weeks' vacation.

Ground Hog is All Right.

It is claimed the ground hog legend is correct and proved so this year as it is claimed that leap year makes the difference, and the belief is that if the ground hog on seeing his shadow on Candlemas Day returns to his hole and that winter takes another flight, is reversed.

"If Candlemas Day on Leap Year be,
And the ground hog his shadow doth not see,
Then he will be to us a sign to stay
And not return 'till All Fools' Day."

If this is the case, then the ground hog forecast was a correct one for we have certainly never seen a colder, or more disagreeable spring or one with more snow.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

A. R. Clark attended the Republican Convention at Portland.

Jasper Haggerty and wife of Belgrade are guests at Walker Mills.

Mrs. George Skilling attended the wood-choppers' ball at Edes' Falls, last Wednesday evening.

Beth Scribner has been at her parents' home for the past two weeks. She has now resumed her school in Yarmouth.

Elmer Mills is at home from Bates for a brief recess.

Maud Ames has been stopping at Geo. Skilling's for a few days.

George Upton was in this place collecting post-cards for Mr. Sophia Pike, who is very aged, and recently had the misfortune to break her leg.

Marguerite Smith of Otisfield has been canvassing the village with dress goods.

An umbrella man has been through the place recently. Another sign of spring.

There was a program at the last session of the Eastern Star as follows: Piano solo, Ethel Skilling; reading, Mabel Jilison; reading, Winsford Walker; reading, Elizabeth Scribner, encore. There was a pie supper.

The cottage prayer service at the home of Fred Bolster called out the largest number for the season. The pastor, Rev. William Laite, will have special music and a song service next Sabbath, April 2.

Fryeburg

Marcus M. Smart has been confined to the house with a bad cold but is better.

C. T. Ladd was out, Sunday, for a short walk.

Mrs. Emma Brickett spent the week-end with friends in town.

Arline Hutchins came from Littleton, Saturday evening, where she spent a couple of days enroute from college.

Several students are home from the University of Maine.

Arlie Trumble of New York was a recent guest of Edna Chase.

Mrs. Mary Barker has moved back to her home on Main street after a few weeks with her nephew, Osgood Pike.

Mrs. E. G. Pike is in Boston after spring millinery.

Dean Osgood, who has made his home with Frank Osgood, left, Wednesday, for Michigan, where he has a good opening for work.

Frank Ridlon is working in the mill.

Charles Merrill and William Keefe are to make old silver look like new. They are in rear of Red Men's block.

It is reported that Randolph Surbridge, who formerly lived in Fryeburg, died a few weeks ago in a Boston hospital. He was a member of the late William Durgin's family for many years.

Gardner Walker, who died in Portland, last week, was formerly a resident of Fryeburg.

Mrs. James Wiley, who is at Memorial Hospital, is getting along nicely. Mr. Wiley visited her, Sunday.

Chester Tarbox of Harrison was in town, Thursday.

Annie Gordon, who makes her home with her uncle, Dr. Gordon, has been ill with grip for several weeks at St. Barnabas Hospital, but is now convalescent.

John Kerr, Jr. has been spending a few days in Conway.

James Eastman and C. T. Ladd have decided not to build their houses this year.

Allan Wood has returned from Portland, where he has been in the Maine General hospital having undergone a successful operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. F. W. Thoms has returned from Portland where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Harold Russell.

Mrs. T. L. Eastman has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. George Dunn in Maplewood, N. Y. J.

Mrs. Walter Mansfield is home after spending several weeks in Bridgewater, Mass., and Farmington.

Mrs. Charles Warren of Arlington, Mass., is in town, called here by the illness of her aunt, Fannie Abbotts.

Mrs. M. B. Baker is having a new steam heating apparatus placed in her home; Elmer Brackett is doing the work.

Katherine E. Abbott and Gertrude Mansfield are home from Farmington Normal school for the spring vacation.

Mrs. Achas Perkins has gone to Springfield after spending two months in Fryeburg with her sister, Mrs. Mary Chase.

Gwendolyn Brackett recently entertained the group of Pequawket Campfire girls at her home. Mary L. Gordon spoke to the girls upon "Training the Powers of Observation to see the Beauties of the Out-of-door World." Miss Gordon has been a life long student of all phases of out-of-door life and describes her many experiences with great clearness and beauty. Miss Brackett served delicious refreshments to the members of the group and the guests. As she prepared the refreshments, that piece of work qualified her for an honor bead in the home craft division.

The Boy Scouts held a public meeting at the Congregational vestry on Sunday evening, April 2.

Low Price Loses out Against Low Cost

PRICE may sell some things to farmers, but price alone is a poor argument compared with the records for low cost of operation made by Mogul kerosene engines.

Because they run on kerosene, Mogul engines produce farm power at the lowest possible cost.

You know what gasoline costs. You know, too, what kerosene costs. Take the difference—multiply it by the number of gallons of fuel an engine will consume in five years, figuring one pint of fuel per horse power per hour.

At what price must you buy a gasoline engine to make it cost you as little as a Mogul does? Could you afford to accept a gasoline engine as a gift? See the dealer about this. He has the figures all worked out for you on all sizes of Mogul engines from 1 to 50 H. P.

Spreading Prosperity

Fertile soil means good crops and good crops mean prosperity. The only way to keep your fields fertile and productive is to give back what your crops take away—nature's plant food.

Essex Organic Fertilizers are made out of BONE, BLOOD and MEAT—nature's best plant food in its most concentrated and productive forms. They not only give back to the soil what crops take away, but they enrich the land for other crops, keeping it always fertile and always in the best condition. This means prosperity not only in land value, but in rich agricultural yields.

Extensive experiments have shown that these improved animal fertilizers, without potash, are as good as the high-grade Essex Fertilizers have always been. Thus, the practical elimination of potash from fertilizers by the war has little effect on the farmer who builds for prosperity with Essex BONE, BLOOD and MEAT Fertilizers.

See our dealer or write for free booklet which solves your fertilizer problems for 1916.

FRYEBURG

Gardner Walker.

Gardner Walker, formerly County Commissioner of Cumberland County, died yesterday at his home on Lincoln street, after a long and hopeless illness.

Mr. Walker was born in Fryeburg 72 years ago, being a member of the family of that name which has been famous in the annals of Fryeburg and that section for more than a century. Mr. Walker was educated in the schools of his native town and when a young man became a clerk in the store kept by his uncle. He became interested in the shoe business and coming to Portland entered the employ of Charles J. Walker, who was a relative. Gardner Walker soon became a traveling salesman and for many years traveled through northern New Hampshire, Vermont and parts of Maine in the shoe business. He was in the shoe business for a time he remained at his home in Fryeburg village, engaging in farming on a modest scale. He later moved to Deering and was engaged in the stable business, also in the express business for a time. Mr. Walker was elected a County Commissioner about 15 years ago and served two terms. After leaving the office he again fell ill and has not been able to follow any regular occupation for any length of time since. Mr. Walker is the last member of his family, all of his immediate relatives having preceded him. His daughter, Miss Katherine Walker, who was for some years a clerk in the registry of deeds, passed away a little more than two years ago, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Walker was a man of the most positive convictions and he was always ready to maintain them at all times, was always a fair antagonist and one who never lost his temper in the heat of debate. He was an old-line stalwart Republican of the James G. Blaine type, who had very little use for modern political ideas which have sprung up and swept over the country carrying all before them. He was a man who always stood by his friends at no matter what cost and who valued his word above all things.

Mrs. Achsah W. Perkins of Springfield, Mass., who has been spending several weeks in Fryeburg with her sister, Mrs. Mary Chase and Anne Wiley, left town on Tuesday, March 21. She will on the way home visit Biddeford, Boston and Kingston, where she will be the guest of friends. She expects to reach her home, The Oaks, in Springfield, in a few days.

Augustus H. Ward has been spending a few days in Milan, N. H., where he is the guest of his cousin, Mrs. Virginia Weston Hagar.

Helen Hodson, who is a teacher in Massachusetts, is spending her vacation in Fryeburg, where she is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hodson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Brown has closed their home in Fryeburg and are spending a few weeks with friends in Boston.

Gertrude Mansfield, a student in the Farmington Normal School, is spending her vacation in Fryeburg, where she is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mansfield.

Mrs. Charles Purington and her daughter, Marjorie Purington of Burlington, Vt., are spending a few weeks in Fryeburg, where they are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hill Evans.

The pupils of the Fryeburg Grammar School enjoyed a "map talk" given by Mrs. Benjamin T. Newman on Monday afternoon, March 20.

The Pythagorean Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star held a special meeting on Tuesday evening, March 21. Mrs. Emily Osgood passed her 86th birthday on Saturday, March 18.

She was well remembered with gifts and messages by her many friends. Mrs. Lila D. Cousins, her youngest daughter, and with whom she makes her home, received with her mother the friends who brought birthday greetings. Refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Mrs. Carrie Reed of South Bridgton and Mrs. Annie Stone of Springfield, Mass. Her friends wish her many returns of the day.

The piano pupils of Mrs. A. M. Abbott gave an interesting recital at her home on Monday afternoon, March 20. Mrs. Pickard of North Conway, N. H., a student of Fryeburg Academy sang a pleasing baritone solo.

Mrs. William B. Bradley and her daughter, Miss Annie Cary Bradley, entertained a few friends at dinner on St. Patrick's Day at the home of the birthday of their friend, Mrs. Osa (Drew) Charles. The decorations of shamrock, etc., were appropriate to the day. It was an enjoyable party.

The Stevens Library at North Fryeburg has recently received a gift of $25 from C. O. Doring of Bangor.

Roger Brown is spending a part of his vacation at Lovell, where he is the guest of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown.

CASCO

Born to the wife of Mr. Herbert Meserve, a daughter, Wednesday morning, March 22. Mrs. Sarah Edwards is caring for her.

Mrs. Irving Kemps and Doris Elder returned Friday from a week's visit in Portland with Mrs. Kemp's brother.

Born to the wife of Fred Lombard a daughter, Friday morning, March 24. Mrs. Addie Colby is caring for her.

The many friends of Walter Medcroft were saddened to learn of his serious illness occasioned by a shock last Thursday night and to hear of his death Friday morning, March 24, 1916. The funeral was held at the home of Mr. Riggs of New Gloucester, Sunday, at 10 o'clock a. m. His friends from here could not attend on account of the poor traveling. Flowers were sent from the Eastman House, where he made his home for so many years, while in the employ of Mr. C. C. Mayberry.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Edwards of New York City have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thorne and Mr. and Mrs. Rans Edwards.

Mrs. Wm. Franklin of Old Orchard, preached the sermon at Union church, Sunday, March 26th. She is conducting Bible readings this week and will preach Sunday, April 2nd.

Elmer Briggs, principal of Casco High school and his brother, Robert are spending the two weeks' vacation at their home in Monson.

At a Domestic Circus held at Casco Town hall, March 25, 1916, the following committee was chosen: Dr. L. H. Poore, moderator; Mark Leach, clerk; town committee, S. O. Hancock, L. H. Poore, Samuel Grafton, M. L. Leach, S. F. Jordan, F. C. Lombard, Harry Jewett. The delegates to Bangor convention, March 29th: Dr. L. H. Poore and Milton Hancock with George A. Murch and Lorin Mains as alternates.

LOVELL

Florence Emery is at home from Fryeburg.

G. W. Walker and wife have returned from South Paris.

D. W. True was in Cornish over Sunday.

B. W. Brackett has been appointed road commissioner for the coming year.

Amos McKee of North Lovell has charge of the town farm this year.

F. A. Harmon has bought his sister's Mrs. A. R. Davis' half of the home farm on Shave Hill.

At the town meeting Saturday, March 25. The town voted to raise the sum of $400 to build a new hall on No. 4, $200 to move the Center Lovell school house and $75 to rail Narrow bridge.

I had the pleasure of going to Harrison with the Frozen Trail Co. March 16. We left Lovell at two o'clock, all the rest of the company had gone at noon.

We had a fine time on the road across the plains, the pines clustered on the hillside and the gentle breezes wafted the smell of cigarettes back from the front seat. But where we struck the Sweden hills, all was changed, we found heap big wind, much snow.

We just got through and that was all. We met a man and asked him if there were any drifts from there to North Bridgton and he said there were thirteen, we thanked him and drove on, but he had made a mistake as we counted sixteen.

But we got there just the same. We found the rest of the company at the Grange hall. We all repaired to the hotel for supper. Say that supper was great it almost paid us for the rough trip over. If any one gets away from there hungry they would be obliged to get away in the night. We had a good crowd at the hall and kind friends that took us home with them for the remainder of the night and at eight o'clock in the morning we started for Lovell. The baggage team Mr. Eastman driver, Cross Fox and Mr. Seers left at four o'clock in the morning as they wanted to see Bear Pond in Waterville at sunrise. And we would thank the people of Harrison for the many kindnesses shown us and also say to them never leave Lovell in a storm as our doors will be ever open to them.

Stomach Trouble Solved

Most stomach troubles are not diseases. The stomach is simply weak. Tired out. The right kind of a tonic is what is needed. A few meals, well digested, will furnish natural strength. That is what a tonic will do for you. It will start the stomach going right. Then the stomach will take care of itself.

PE-RU-NA

Good the Year 'Round

Always Ready-to-Take There is no use of writing a new prescription every time a remedy is needed for a weak stomach. No use whatever. The old, well-tried remedies, put up on purpose for such cases, are a great deal better than any hand prescription. Peruna is the remedy that people have relied upon for a great many years. It is ready to take, composed of pure drugs, of uniform strength and composition. Not an experiment. Peruna is a substantial, household remedy, with forty years of splendid history behind it. In buying Peruna you take no risk. You know what you are getting.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

A State Prison Sentence.
Fred Furbish pleaded guilty to two indictments, one for larceny and one for breaking and entering. Judge Haley imposed a sentence of two and one-half years in state prison.

Norman McInnis pleaded guilty to an indictment for larceny, and the indictment was filed and McInnis was released during good behavior.

Warren Cook pleaded guilty to an indictment for robbery, but as he had been in jail since October, and it was his first offense, the case was continued and he was released on good behavior.

On Tuesday Everett Burnham of Sumner pleaded guilty to an indictment for the larceny of a set of one-horse sleds, the property of Albert D. Brown of Hartford. County Attorney Bellevue stated to the court that the property in question had been restored, and that as far as he was concerned, the case should be placed on file. Nathan G. Foster, counsel for Burnham, also spoke briefly in his behalf. Judge Haley, after a few words of advice to Burnham, allowed him to go, and the case was filed.

The Preece Murder Trial

The Preece murder case which interests people locally was commenced at the Court House, Friday. County attorney Albert Bellevue, in opening the case, said that the State would bring evidence to prove that a dead body, afterward identified as Thomas E. Preece, was found on the road between West Sumner and Paris Hill.

It is claimed he was on his way from Aroostook County, and at Milo, Preece met Patrick J. Harrington, the prisoner. These two men were not acquainted before this meeting. The two men left Milo together in a team. It was claimed Harrington had no money from the fact that he had borrowed a dollar from a Mr. Jordan at Milo. The County attorney traced the route followed by the two men through the villages of Mercer, Canton, Hartford and West Sumner on their way to Paris Hill.

The County attorney said that he expects to prove by the respondent's admission that he met Preece, that he traveled with him, that they lost their way, that both were riding in the team, that there was a little snow, that the horse was tired, that Preece got out of the carriage and that the old rifle they had with them caught in the blanket and was discharged. That Harrington tried to revive Preece without success and went through Preece's pockets, came to South Paris, had a shave and a hair cut at a barber's shop and spent the night at the hotel.

Fred E. Cushman of South Paris said that he and his wife were driving from Paris to West Sumner on that Sunday morning and found the body by the roadside about two miles from West Sumner. He looked at the body and as soon as possible notified the deputy sheriff.

William O. Frothingham, sheriff of Oxford County, testified to being called to West Sumner, Nov. 8, 1914, and finding the body 12 feet 9 inches from the wheel tracks in full view from the street.

There was mud on his pants knees and the pants pocket on the left side was turned inside out. A cap was on his head. There were bruises on his forehead and a cut on his left cheek. Trench coat, the quilts, blankets, fur robe and bags were found at the hotel at South Paris.

J. H. Stuart of South Paris showed the place he made of the location where the body was found.

Ed Jones of South Paris, undertaker, testified to going and bringing the body to South Paris. It was dark when he arrived there and he made no investigation of the body until at the undertaking rooms.

Mrs. Annie Frye of Jay identified the body as that of Preece, having been acquainted with him. He had stopped at her brother's, Louis Rawson's, at Presque Isle. She also had a letter from him written at Mattawamkeuc, telling her that he was on his way to Paris Hill and that he was shooting four partridges that morning. She had only known him for a few months; he had told her he was a sort of detective.

Dr. H. L. Bartlett of Norway testified in regard to the autopsy and said there was a flesh wound on the right cheek, a flesh wound on the forehead about three-quarters of an inch long, a flesh wound on the right side of the head back of the ear, and a bullet hole in the body showing grazing the fifth rib, passing through the heart and out the front of the body.

John B. Carter said Harrington worked for him at Milo one day and he told him he came from Bangor.

Charles M. Tebbets of Bangor recognized Harrington as the man he saw with Preece at Milo. He claimed Preece said he was going to South Paris and had a grip, two or three blankets and a dog. He heard him tell Harrington he could ride to Madison with him.

S. T. Guthall, proprietor of the Milo House, recognized Harrington as one of the men who stopped at his house on November 2.

F. A. Jordan said he saw Harrington at Milo Junction and Harrington said he had no money and he gave him a dollar.

Alden B. Dunton said the man in the dock looked like the one who came into his store and asked him the way to South Paris.

Walter Farrar of Hartford said the picture shown him was of the team in which he saw the two men about 2-30 miles from the way to South Paris and recognized Harrington as one of the men. C. A. Merrill of Hartford also recognized the team in the picture. Among other witnesses were Sumner DeCoster of Hartford, H. W. Davenport of West Sumner, Eugene Elwell of Greenwood, C. C. Keene of Sumner and William E. Damon of Buckfield.

J. B. Pierson said he found the gun shown him on the road from Buckfield to Paris Hill, also a box of cartridges which he brought to W. O. Frothingham.

Byron W. Tuttle, proprietor of the Andrews House, South Paris, identified the man in the dock as the one who stopped at his hotel on the night of the alleged shooting at 11:40 and registered as "William Dunn of Jay." He called him for the early morning train, but had no conversation with him. A cat was left there when he turned over to Frothingham.

Harrington's Confession.

I, Patrick J. Harrington of Boston, Commonwealth of Mass., and now under arrest for the murder of Thomas E. Preece, do hereby make the following statement voluntarily, of my own accord, without any promise of leniency with the distinct understanding that it may be used by the State in the prosecution of the charge for which I am now under arrest:

The Saturday before I met Preece, the day I do not exactly remember, I went to Milo Junction where I had been promised employment and when I arrived there I found that two Italians had been given my position. I registered at Milo Junction as William Dunn of Oldtown and remained there over Sunday.

Milo Monday morning and immediately went to work for the American Thread Co. At the hotel there I registered as Patrick J. Harrington of Marlboro. The work was hard on me and for that reason I stayed in bed Tuesday morning. I did not go to work. Preece came to Milo Tuesday afternoon and we left there together Wednesday morning. I had some conversation with Preece on Tuesday afternoon and told him I was going back to Boston and he offered to take me with him as far as Paris.

At Milo Junction the man for whom I was to work when he had told me that he had given the position to someone else, gave me a dollar to help me pay my way.

This fellow was head of a gang employed in picking iron. At Milo I sold my old razor to a fellow by the name of Pratt for one dollar. At the hotel at Milo I paid either $3 or $4.50 for board and lodging. When I left there with Preece I must have had about $3. At that time I saw no money belonging to Preece and did not know he had any. On our way from Milo to Paris Preece purchased most of the food and we cooked it on the road. The first time I saw Preece's money was the second day after we left Milo when he went into a store to purchase some groceries and gave the dealer a five dollar bill.

Preece had his money wrapped up in a handkerchief and carried it in a pocket, which one I do not know. Nothing unusual happened on the trip to South Paris and we had no trouble whatever.

Saturday evening as we neared Paris just where I do not know, we lost our way two or three times and the last time we were told to return and take the first road to our left. It snowed quite a little that evening and Preece was ugly and mad that he had lost his way. One of the of whom we inquired the way offered us to stay with him that night. The last inquiry was made by Preece. He carried the lantern and I led the horse. We were always on the same side of the team while walking and near each other. As soon as we got on the right road to Paris as directed we both got in the team and rode. Preece was driving and the lantern was fastened to the dasher. When about three-quarters of a mile on the road the horse on account of the snow began to slide. In front of the buggy and between the seat and the dasher we had a half bushel of oats and two bags of hay. As a protection against the snow we had a blanket on the dasher and from the dasher to our knees and the gun Preece had used on the way to shoot partridges, which was lying on top of this blanket and near the dasher and was loaded. The gun was loaded by Preece that day.

When the horse began to slip Preece started to jump out on the right side of the buggy. The dog owned by Preece was on the seat with us and started also and Preece pushed him back. Preece pulled out the blanket with him and when Preece struck the ground the gun went off. I heard the report and heard Preece say "O my God." That was all he said. I picked him up and rubbed his face with snow and tried to talk to him when I saw he was dead. I placed the body about a foot outside the traveled part of the road. After I had pushed the body outside the road I took the money from one of his pants pockets and tied it up in a handkerchief. I can throw out of the buggy everything that was not necessary, with the exception of the blanket and the dog and also Preece's suit-case containing some of his clothing.

After this I started for Paris and drove as fast as I could. This happened after supper and I should have about 8 o'clock. The horse was very tired and I stopped on the road three or four times to inquire the way to Paris. I arrived at Paris I should judge about 11 o'clock and inquired for a livery stable and was directed to the livery stable connected with the hotel. I told the boy at the stable to feed the horse and to take good care of him, and that I should be back after the team Sunday evening.

After I put up the horse I went to the barber shop across the street from the hotel, got a haircut, shampoo and shave. I paid the barber for this and also got some cigars. I then asked him about a hotel and he showed me a building across the street from the barber shop. I went to this hotel and found it closed. I got the landlord out of bed and registered as "William Dunn of Jay," and told the landlord to call me for the early train next morning. This he did.

I didn't sleep at all that night and was awake when the landlord called me Sunday morning. Before leaving, Sunday morning, I put on and wore the suit of clothes belonging to Preece and which I found in his suit-case. I then put my old suit of clothes in the suit-case and took it with me. I ate dinner in a restaurant at Monument Square, Portland, and left the suit-case there with my old clothes.

I stayed in Portland over two hours and then went to Boston. Since that time I have been going by the name of Peter Howard. The things in the Preece suit-case I attempted to hide in the room occupied by me that Saturday night. I was acquainted with Preece when he lived in Boston and when he was employed at the Beacon Theater as special officer taking tickets at the door. After Preece was killed I wore the fur coat to Paris and left it at the hotel at South Paris.

Dated and signed at Paris, in the County of Oxford on the 10th day of November, 1915. (Signed) Patrick J. Harrington.

In the presence of:
William O. Frothingham,
Arthur J. Landry,
Fred J. Weyland.

After the charge the case went to the jury and after an hour's deliberation the jury returned to the courtroom at 11:30 and reported their verdict that Patrick J. Harrington is guilty of murder in killing Thomas E. Preece. No sign of emotion was visible on the prisoner, either during the calling of the roll or when they gave the verdict. Exceptions were filed by the counsel for the defense to take the case to the law court. Harrington was remanded to the Oxford County Jail to await a decision of the Law Court on a bill of exceptions.

"IF"

If you can toss a match into a clearing, And never give a thought to put it out, Or drop your cigarette butt without fearing That flames may kindle in the leaves about, If you can knock the ashes from your pipe, Without a glance to see where they may fall, And later and the forest all afire, Where you have passed—with no one near to call, If you can drive your auto through the woods, And cast your stogie stub into the slash, Unmindful of the danger therein lurking, Or home and happiness that you may smother, If you can leave your camp fire while 'tis glowing, No thought of industries that it may blight, Or of the billion saplings in the growing, Turned into charcoal ere the coming night, If you can start a hen beneath a bush, When the wind is roaring like a distant gun, You surely should be shot without a trial, And which is more, you'll be a foot on Seneca.

THE FUTURE OF COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Figures of the plans of the Yale college senior class were given out last week. There are 126 of them who will enter some form of business, while but 70 of them will become lawyers, and only nine, clergymen. This is a great change from the years when most college graduates went into the professions. The big motive governing this choice seems to be the matter of money. Business is popular because it offers a chance for large returns. Law is the one profession that is not so certain, since it is too, has chances for big incomes. But it is an overcrowded profession. Many young men have little liking for the long solitary wait after the student has hung out his shingle, with years of anxious listening for footfalls down the corridor.

The college students are supposed to have spent their four years in contact with the world's great philosophies. These from upon the search for wealth and exalt plain living and high thinking. But the world's golden prizes look much more shiny and alluring.

We Were Prepared. When the Civil War was over we found France in possession of Mexico. Our government intimated to the French government that its presence there was undesirable, and the French withdrew. Why? Because the righteousness of our protest made Napoleon ashamed of himself? Not at all. It was because at that moment we had a million trained men under arms. And having the million men ready to fight, we did not have to fight. The victory was won without the firing of a single gun or the loss of a single drop of blood—because we were prepared for victory.

Under the head of Good-by, the Mountaineer of Goshorn, N. H., says: There having been no sale of The Mountaineer, and there being no likelihood of a sale at the present time, this is probably the last issue of The Mountaineer. The job printing business will be continued for the present. This issue completes the 39th year of the paper and apparently its career.

The owner regrets the necessity for discontinuing the paper, but feels that after fourteen years of hard work he is entitled to lighten his labors. Good-by, and may good health and abundant prosperity be yours, each and everyone. Good-by!

KEEPING UP HIGHWAYS.

The season for working on the highways approaches. To many public officials, the problem of keeping up the roads with the limited appropriations available, in face of modern automobile and truck business seems almost insoluble. There are, however, a few roads are growing worse rather than better, in spite of the millions being spent. The road builders of ten years ago did not realize the heavy strain that they would have to meet.

Touring motorists say they do not usually find the worst strips of road in the rural districts, at least not on the main lines of travel, but in the cities where to motor trucks and other heavy teaming tear up the surface, and make many a handsome street one long lumpy surface. A visitor from another city was giving some interesting experiences from his home town. The appropriation for streets was cut down one third two years ago, and no permanent work could be attempted. The superintendent decided that all they could do was simply to keep the surface from growing worse. So the men filled up every little hollow they could find, and rolled it down solidly.

As soon as new hollows started, they were filled in and rolled. When heavy showers came, the water ran off and formed new puddles. There were no depressions in which heavy teams could get a leverage, and grind out still deeper holes. It was his opinion that under this policy of watchfulness, the roads had held their own and probably improved, though with a smaller expenditure.

It is of course a mistake to stop permanent work on the roads. Every municipality should do some of it each year. But the policy of constant watchfulness to stop hollows from enlarging into holes will do wonders. A showery in the depression today may save a cartload next month.

THE SEED QUESTION.

The seed question is not infrequently a big problem with the farmer, and it would seem that he would learn by experience the need of providing against a day of reckoning by taking steps each season to secure the needed supply. This situation is not always his fault, for with the practice of relying upon seed houses for the supply there is the possibility of the demand exceeding the supply. But many farmers are self-reliant and do not depend upon seed houses for all of their supplies. In fact, experience has shown them that they can get better results by using supplies which they produce, and this is found to be particularly true in the seed line.

Where seed is raised on the farm it is found that by testing systematically the persistency of the various strains of potatoes, oats and other grains can be very definitely learned. This work of testing has been given special emphasis by the Maine Seed Improvement Association, the College of Agriculture at Orono and by other agencies. The importance of seed-testing lies in the fact that it puts the farmer in more definite relation with certainty in production. Other things being equal, it has been found that following up year after year production by high testing seed, in the course of a few years marked gains are made in the crop results.

The work of seed testing is made very simple by the instructions of the Federal or State Department of Agriculture, the College of Agriculture, Maine Seed Improvement Association and other agencies interested in this work. It is work that may be easily conducted by the farmer, showing as it does the germinating force of the seed, which indicates quite distinctly the results that may be expected from it in the soil with the fertilizer and other conditions reasonably favorable. Like test work in the dairy it is subject to variations in the results, but there will be a general tendency that will be manifested under any condition.

Ribbon and Buckle Trimmed Hats.

Ribbon is taking an important place in the season's millinery trimming.

Many of the new hats are almost entirely covered with ribbons. Stiff ribbon is laced and used to cover crown and brim, ribbon about an inch wide.

Sometimes the crown is covered with bands of ribbon, all crossing at the center. The stiff, twisted ribbon is used for this purpose, too.

Then there are the bands of ribbon with tailored bow at the side, sometimes forming the only trimming of sailor shapes, sometimes used in combination with a feather fancy at one side.

Pastel colors in ribbons are used for hats to wear with thin summer frocks. They are sometimes made into big wired bows which perch jauntily at the back or side of the hat, sometimes narrow ribbons are used.

Narrow ribbon is run through buckles, too, which adds to its trimming quality. Small bone buckles, sometimes metal buckles are used.

Democratic State Convention.

The Oxford county delegation met after the noon recess. Judge McCarthy of Rumford acted as chairman. Y. A. Thurston of Andover was elected vice president of the convention; B. G. McIntire, East Waterford, committee on resolutions; Fred L. Edwards, member State committee and Y. A. Thurston, member district committee.

The following county committee was elected: B. J. Roderick, Rumford; B. L. Melcher of Rumford; B. W. Goodwin of Mexico, F. B. Coffin of Gilead, Dr. F. W. Morse of Canton, George H. Record of Buckfield, E. J. Record of Paris, Harold Gammon of Bryant's Pond, Charles H. Pike of Norway, W. H. Kilgore of North Waterford, Chas. O. Hiram of Hiram, George W. Richardson of Gilead, Paul Thurston of Bethel, H. J. Hodgson of Fryeburg.

Delegates to the Democrat National at St. Louis, in second district: Congressmen Daniel J. McGillicuddy, Lewiston; H. D. Maxwell, Bethel; Harvey O. Graham, of Portland, and F. Wade Halliday, of Newport.

Ticks in Sheep.

Plain old-fashioned stuff is the best. A pound will do for 25 or more sheep. Two or three applications will be all that are needed. Part the wool and put in a light sprinkling of the stuff. Avoid parting wool on sheep's back as snow and wet will get in, but all over the rest of body, especially on underparts. Take plenty of time and do the work thoroughly; in a few days, repeat for later hatches.

RENOVATING THE OLD LAWN.

Simple Directions for Making Green Grass Grow.

"What can I do to my lawn to make it fresh and velvety again?" This is the question that is asked in the springtime by 90 per cent. of all who take an interest in their home grounds and wish to keep the general appearance at par. As a matter of fact, the question is usually more than justified. The lawn does need renovating.

"But how shall it be done?" The most effective result is attained by the most radical course. The best and simplest way to renovate the old lawn is to make a new one. Many times it will not pay to patch, and work interminably over a badly conditioned grass plot, because the necessary soil conditions for a good lawn simply are not there.

If the result that presents itself to the questioner is merely that of recent neglect—that is to say, a heretofore good lawn has been allowed to get out of control—it may be recovered in one season without an undue expenditure of either labor or money. In such a case the following course of treatment is recommended.

Early in the spring the surface of the lawn should be scratched up with a rake. Any bare spots should be dug up to a depth of several inches. If the roots of any biennial weeds remain they should be pulled out or dug up. Sow grass seed liberally over the entire lawn, the amount depending upon how badly the lawn needs re-seeding.

Apply a good coat of fine compost or rich loam if it can be obtained. On top of this apply very evenly 5 to 10 pounds of good high-grade commercial fertilizer to the square rod (800 to 1600 lbs. per acre), just previous to or during a rain. It can be applied in dry weather if followed with a thorough hose sprinkling.

If applied early in the season before grass growth has started, rake the entire surface of the lawn, thoroughly mixing the compost or loam with the fertilizer, and working this mixture well down around the roots of the old grass, remove the coarse portion of the compost. Do not apply too heavy a coat of compost or loam as to bury the grass. Simply cover and mulch the old grass roots and make a covering for the new seed. In seed time, just previous to or during a rain, get one high in phosphoric acid, a mixture containing 4 per cent. to 5 per cent. ammonia, 8 per cent. to 10 per cent. available phosphoric acid and 2 per cent. to 3 per cent. potash is about right.

If the soil seems to be acid in character as indicated by the presence of clover, rain weeds, like red sorrel, an application of one ton to the acre of fine ground limestone or slaked lime should be given, but do not apply the lime at the same time as the fertilizer is applied. Late fall or winter is the best time for a lime treatment.

After the spring treatment above indicated, the lawn should be thoroughly firm down and the grass roots pressed into the ground by the use of a heavy roller. Do not roll the lawn soon after a heavy rain, but be sure the soil is moderately soft at the time of rolling.

Constant watering and moderate trimming at frequent intervals throughout the season will aid very materially in producing a pleasing and satisfactory lawn. In many cases it is hard to keep in good condition from year to year for the reason that they were not correctly made at the beginning. A lawn should not be expected to do well when the grass seed was merely planted in the ordinary way, usually around a house after excavation and building are completed. Nothing but large quantities of manure and commercial fertilizer together with deep and prolonged working of the soil, can render such a soil suitable for successful grass growing.—O. M. Kile.

Colors and the Complexion.

Every one notices the change in an individual's appearance made by dress changed the color of his or her clothing. At all times it is wise to dress in colors that are becoming. It is far better to make a pleasant impression upon one's associates than to leave them wondering why we are so attractive. Colors have a marked effect upon the complexion, and we should aim to select the color to wear to bring out the natural beauty of the skin. Light blue, for instance, is not the color for blond complexions; however, sets off a blond complexion in high relief by supplying suitable background.

Blue is unbecoming to a brunette, unless her cheeks are florid. If she be pale, it makes her face look tawny. Green has the same effect on blue complexion, but makes the cheeks of a blue face look pinked.

Red heightens the effect of pale brunettes. Yellow is highly becoming to a pale complexion, especially in artificial light. It softens an olive skin and gives it a creamy tint.

Notice to Guides.

The commissioners of inland fisheries and game are calling the attention of guides to the fact that before they can be licensed they must not only have furnished for the preceding season, as required by law, but they also must furnish the endorsement of the municipal officers of the town in which they reside or of the nearest town if a resident of an unorganized place. The latter provision applies to guides who have been previously licensed as well as to those applying for the first time.

The attorney general has ruled that a guide must furnish this endorsement of the municipal officers each year before he can be issued a license to guide. Guides who are intending to engage in the business of guiding at the opening of the fishing season should make early application for license so there will be no delay in securing their licenses. This is particularly applicable to Sebago Lake and Long Pond in Cumberland county, in which the general open season begins April 1.

An Indian chief, Squanto, first taught the early settlers how to fertilize their land with fish and increase their yields. The Plymouth Colony, in its "History" to taught that "except they got fish and set the old grounds with them, it would come to nothing." Squanto's teachings were tried in 1621 and the following year another writer, George Mourt, recorded in his "Journal" that 20 acres of corn and six acres of barley, treated as Squanto had taught, made an excellent yield.

A keen observer says that lots of smiles are wasted during a telephone conversation.

HIRAM

Water Power.

Yet another of the beautiful falls of the Saco River, Hiram Falls, between Hiram and Bethel, is to be transferred by the hand of man from its present wild grandeur to a producer of electrical energy. This is the penalty of time and progress.

The world is too poor to brook the waste of a great power, and as a result of the Cumberland County Power company has begun work on the great dam and power plant that will be a fetters to the fall's freedom and by which it hopes eventually to develop some 20,000 horsepower of electricity.

The big dam will be built about half way down the falls and its top will be about six feet above the head of the falls, thus keeping the water at a little less than high water mark throughout the year. From the dam a huge penstock will run to the foot of the falls on the Bethel side, where the powerhouse will be built and equipped with machinery sufficient to develop 20,000 horsepower, though but 6,000 of this will probably be utilized for a while. It is estimated that the job will last at least 250 months and a crew of at least 250 men will be employed. The total cost being not far from half a million dollars. The power developed will be used in Portland and in towns along the line. The falls have a 60 foot drop in a distance of about 900 feet, falling in a series of cascades. With a dam six feet above the top, a 66-foot head of water will be obtained.

An Oxford Co. Man.

Isaac T. Bacon, 70 years of age, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. M. H. Green, at Logansport, Indiana, Sunday night at 9 o'clock. Death was due to heart trouble.

Deceased was a retired Panhandle conductor. More recently he had been custodian of the Masonic Temple. Deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. H. Green and Mrs. N. B. Stough and one son, E. A. Bacon, of Logansport. He was a member of Orient Lodge No. 2 R. & S. M., and of the St. John commandery No. 24, Knights Templars of the above city.

Isaac T. Bacon, who died in Logansport, Ind., March 19, 1916, was born in Greenwood, Oxford County, Me., in 1845. He was the son of Alanson and Almira (Buck) Bacon, well known in the villages of the county, having been an expert violinist, and was associated with an orchestra that furnished music for parties in all villages about, at a time when dancing was one of the popular amusements. He brought to Indiana a very superior violin that was made in Maine, that was considered by violinists one of the best to be found anywhere. He was educated in the neighborhood schools, living on the old farm, where he was married to Eliza Whitman in 1870. In 1873 he wife died, leaving a daughter, Mabelle, who is now living in Logansport, with her husband, Harry M. Green.

In 1872, his brother, C. H. Bacon, emigrated to the Pennsylvania R. R., and living in Logansport, he left the Maine home, coming to Logansport, where he took a position with the Penn. R. R. and continued with the company until 1898, when he moved to El Paso, Texas, and was with the Texas & Pacific R. R. Co. as conductor until 1905, when he returned to Logansport, where he has made his home ever since.

In 1875 he married Pauline A. Seigmund, who with three children are living, Lillian A., who married Nelson

Stough, and Ervin A., who have homes here in Logansport, and Willard H., who lives in Tipton, Ind. Mr. Bacon's parents came to Indiana in 1876, and made their home with the sons. The funeral will be held from the residence, 2115 Smead street at 3 p. m., Wednesday, conducted by Rev. Carpenter and Knight Templars. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

WEST PARIS.

Mrs. Allan Cole returned home last Sunday morning after a three week's absence for a surgical operation at the C. M. G. hospital, Lewiston. She is gaining now.

The all day Grange meeting last Saturday was greatly enjoyed by all who were there. After the business routine in the forenoon, Mrs. C. O. Purington gave a little talk on her visit to the Dairy exhibit in Chicago, Ill., last year. It was very interesting. The dinner of fish chowder and oyster stew cooked and served by the men, was a great success. Dana A. Grover was chief cook and overseer of the kitchen and H. W. Welch was head waiter in the dining room and the two gentlemen wore white duck tam-o-shanta style caps, the first wore a large white apron and the second a white coat. The kitchen help not only served the dinner, but they cleared it away and washed the dishes afterwards. There were sixty or more people at dinner and a good lot in for the afternoon program, which was as follows:

Reading, "The Sammie," from "Hiawatha," Lucy Edwards
Vocal duet, "Zurine, Do You Think of Me Now?" Mrs. White, C. A. Churchill
Piano solo, vespers, chorus, Doris Field
Baritone solo, "Queen of the Earth," Three Little Chestnuts
Piano solo with chorus, Dana A. Grover
Contralto solo, "The Minny and Nine," Mrs. S. T. White
Address, "Co-operation and education," Mrs. C. O. Purington, Bowdoinham
Mr. Purington's talk was very interesting and helpful. The next meeting will also be an all day meeting with a picnic dinner.

The schools here are having a week's vacation and the teachers have all gone to their respective homes.

Rev. H. W. Haynes was here last week Tuesday to Friday inclusive and spoke each night at the Universalist church with good attendance. Alice Bardeen was soloist during the meetings. One afternoon was spent for the S. S. teachers and scholars and one afternoon he spoke to the school in the high school room.

Frank Farnum is so as to be out again. Mrs. Farnum has been to Boston to select her spring and summer millinery.

Mrs. A. L. Bowker has been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Stillwell.

Grip and pink eye are still prevalent through the village.

The Universalists held their annual parish meeting and supper, Tuesday evening.

L. H. Penley, F. B. Penley, C. L. Ridlon and C. Howard Lane attended the state republican state convention in Portland last week.

Rev. Sarah A. Robinson was sick with the grip so she could not preach last Sunday and the walking in the evening was so slushy and bad that no evening service was held anywhere.

Mrs. Quincy Day received a visit from her father, Mr. Adams and one of her sisters from Gardiner over Sunday.

Lafayette Thoms has moved his meat stock in trade from H. Farrar's to his new quarters in H. Dunham's block.

G. L. Emery has returned home from his logging job in Magalloway.

DENMARK.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was with Mrs. Geo. Colby, Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Allen left here Wednesday to spend a few weeks in Portland.

Chadbourne Rand has been confined to the house for several weeks with the prevailing grip cold.

The schools begin Monday the 27th, with the same teachers in the Centre district; Florence Ingalls in the Harnden district; Helen Warren at Liberty Corner; Mrs. Irving Trumbull in the Deering district; Mrs. Ada Harnden in the Colby district.

E. B. Dresser has sold his residence in the lower village to C. E. Cobb and contemplates building a cottage near I. O. O. F. hall for his own occupancy in the early spring.

Marion Harris, who is attending the Waynflete school at Portland, is a guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. P. Cobb.

Hazel Stiles of Bridgton is a guest of her grandfather, Horace Gore.

Crystal Spring grange repeated the drama, "Craberry Coners," at their hall, Wednesday evening, March 20.

The minstrel show, "Africa's Four Hundred," under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Jewett, will be repeated at Hiram, Friday evening, March 31st.

Mrs. E. D. Gray and son, Lawrence, of South Harrison were over Sunday guests of her father, W. W. Berry.

Mrs. Irving Ingalls and Mrs. George Trumbull were in Bridgton, Sunday.

There will be special Lenten sermons at the Congregational church during the month of April as follows: April 2, "The Heart of Jesus;" April 9, "Why did He Suffer?;" April 16, "Easter Joy." The services are at 2:30. You are invited to attend and bring a friend, L. F. McDonald, pastor.

EAST GREENWOOD.

Gertrude McAllister of South Paris, visited at her uncle's, Will Yates', Sunday. Mrs. Cora Millett was also a caller there.

Abbie Hayes came home, Saturday, sick. She has been at work for David Emmons for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Swift and three children visited at Cora Doughty's, Sunday.

NORWAY VILLAGE SCHOOLS.

Ninth grade.—W. H. Bergin, teacher. The term commenced Jan. 3, and lasted for twelve weeks. School has been in session every day. Only on one occasion was it necessary to have a session on account of inclement weather.

The grade enrollment was 35 at the beginning of the term. Since then one pupil has left, making the present enrollment 34. Of this number at least thirty will probably be promoted to the high school.

This grade has been unfortunate in having so many teachers. Parents should look into this matter. There is something wrong somewhere and where their children's welfare is at stake, this matter should receive their due consideration.

Insubordination in school generally starts from the wrong influence in the home. A Parent-Teachers' Association has recently been formed. Every parent ought to feel it his duty to become a member of this organization. Unhappily, certain cliques usurp these offices. Every parent should attend the meetings and thus bar many from enjoying the advantages of such an organization, and should use his influence to better the school conditions. Then again, some new systems (such as the Aldine method in reading—the Zaner penmanship, etc.) have been introduced into the schools. Parents ought and have a right to have these new methods explained to them. The Parent-Teachers' Association affords a wonderful opportunity for such things.

Accidentally Shoots Himself.
On Thursday morning at about 9 o'clock, Leon, son of Fred Sanborn, while out gunning on the Lewis farm on Hiram Hill in some way brought the lock of his gun against a tree causing it to be discharged, the charge entering his bowels. His cries were heard by some workmen in the woods nearby, who went to his assistance; he was taken to his home on the Col. J. T. Fitch farm and Dr. H. F. Fitch of Waterville was called, but he found the bowels so mangled that medical skill could not avail.

At about 1 o'clock p. m., he told his sister he guessed he would go to sleep. He nestled upon his pillow and in five minutes passed peacefully away. His age was 14 years, 2 months and 23 days. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon at the Universalist church. Rev. Hervey H. Hoyt attended and spoke words of hope and consolation to the bereaved family and friends and spoke of his pleasant acquaintance with the deceased, as a frank, manly, truthful youth.

He was a sad, pathetic scene when the sorrowful brothers tenderly bore the casket from the church to the hearse. It was conveyed by Mr. Alex P. Copp to the tomb in Cornish for interment in the spring. Besides his parents, he leaves a sister and five brothers.

HOW MRS. BEAN MET THE CRISIS

Carried Safely Through Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Nashville, Tenn.—“When I was going through the Change of Life I had a tumor as large as a child's head. The doctor said it was three years coming and gave me medicine for it until I was called away from the city for some time. Of course I could not go to him then, so my sister-in-law told me that she thought Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would cure it. It helped both the Change of Life and the tumor and when I got home I did not need the doctor. I took the Pinkham remedies until the tumor was gone, the doctor said, and I have not felt it since. I tell every one how I was cured. If this letter will help others you are welcome to use it.”

—Mrs. E. H. BEAN, 525 Joseph Avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a pure remedy containing the extractive properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, meets the needs of woman's system at this critical period of her life. Try it.

If there is any symptom in your case which puzzles you, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

AN IDEAL SPRING LAXATIVE
A good and time tried remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. The first dose will move the sluggish bowels, stimulate the liver and clear the system of waste and blood impurities. You owe it to yourself to clear the system of body poisons, accumulated during the winter. Dr. King's New Life Pills will do it. 25c. at your Druggist.

Reliable Remedy
Restores Kidneys

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. King's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. Dr. King used it for years in his private practice. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it will help you. No other remedy can successfully take its place.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kimler & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Norway Weekly Oxford Co. Advertiser.

Experience Proves

Whoever paints any other paint than Devco wastes money. He needn't wait to see how it wears, to find out. He buys more gallons—no matter what price—it takes more money; the painter takes more, too.

Fewer Gallons or No Pay
Paint half of your house with any other paint; paint half with Devco. The other-half half will take the most gallons; if not, we will make no charge for Devco.

Wears Longer or No Pay
Here's another offer. Paint half of your house with lead-and-oil: the other half with Devco lead-and-oil. In three years the lead-and-oil half will need repainting, while the Devco half will be about like new. If not, we will give you the paint for the whole house.

One of Artemus Ward's Pranks.

One of the greatest American humorists was Charles Farrar Browne, better known as Artemus Ward. He came from old Puritan stock and upon being asked concerning his origin he was wont to reply:

"I think we came from Jerusalem, for my father's name was Levi, and we had a Moses and an Aaron in the family, but my poor brother's name was Cyrus so perhaps that makes us Persians."

As a boy the humorist was full of happy wit, and the family were all ways spared. One night coming home in a driving snowstorm, Artemus went around the house and threw snowballs at his brother Cyrus' window, shouting for him to come quickly. Cyrus appeared in haste and stood shivering in his nightclothes.

"Why don't you come in Charles?"

"Oh," replied Artemus, "I could have got in all right, Cyrus, but I called you down because I wanted to ask you if you really thought it was wrong to keep slaves."

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.
